COUNCIL CORNER

Dear Mount Olive,

I have had quite a life of experiencing different areas of the U.S., moving 13 times in 18 years and living in five different states. A new move always meant finding a new church. I personally have always liked smaller churches. When being so far from home it made me feel like part of a community where I could get to know people and have friends to ease being homesick.

While living outside Dallas, I'd read a story about a "Thankful Box." So as a family we started one. When we were thankful for something, we would write a note and put the note and some change in the thankful box (which at the time was an oatmeal box). As the box was getting full, we would pick ways we could give the money away: buying food for the food pantry, giving money to a niece going through chemo therapy, giving extra cash to a family going through a very tough time, etc. That was 37 years ago. I still have a thankful box in my home today. Before donating the money, I like to reread my notes of thankfulness written over time.

When thinking of things to be thankful for, Mount Olive is near the top of my list. I am so blessed to be part of this faith community. One that has a variety of Bible study classes, grief support, and prayer groups to give me a boost in my journey of walking with Jesus in my heart. To me, serving on the Church Council is also a part of that journey. So much to be thankful for.

What do you have to be thankful for? Is starting a thankful box something you and your family could do together?

Peace and Blessings,
Linda Burie
Mount Olive Council

PASTORAL TRANSITION UPDATE

We are slowly moving along in our pastoral transition process, as we continue to work with Pastor Kristin Nielsen of the Greater Milwaukee Synod of the ELCA. Our current goal is to engage with an interim pastor who will walk with us while we move through the Mission Exploration Process. Generally speaking, interim pastors fill the role of a pastor and remain with a congregation for the time it takes the congregation to:

- take a look at ourselves, and our relationship with the greater community,
- prepare a ministry site profile,
- and engage in the Call process to discover and meet with pastors (and potentially, the pastor) who might feel called to serve alongside this congregation as we all live out our call to be faithful followers of Christ.

During this time of transition, it is a good opportunity for us to consider our own call from God to share God's love with the world. We often associate the work of the church with the work of the pastor, something like this equation: pastor = the church. But did you know that pastors are "called" to very specific ministries? They are called to the ministry of word and sacrament—that is, preaching and administering the sacraments of the Lutheran church, holy communion and baptism.

If pastor = the church, preaching and administering the sacraments seems to be a very limiting view of the work of the church, doesn't it? Think of all of us and others connected with the church. God has given gifts to all of us! Perhaps you enjoy singing or exploring faith with others. Perhaps you have technical skills or financial aptitude. Perhaps you are an active listener and keep conversations confidential, so that others trust you with their very private thoughts. The gifts of God are endless!

What about your own God-given gifts? Envision the amazing people that God has put together at Mount Olive. What ministries might we join together to bring about the kingdom of God? Is there a new or existing ministry that you feel called to engage in or take the lead on at Mount Olive? Right now, Mount Olive has an urgent need for you in the following areas, with scheduling according to your availability: readers, fellowship hour hosts, AV assistants, welcome team, and worship leaders/assistant ministers. Feel free to contact Cindy Dobberke or Debbie in the MTO office for more information.

Further updates:

- Pulpit Supply: Thankfully, our area is blessed with pastors who are willing to join us for worship on Sundays through mid-July, to preach and preside at the Lord's Table. You may recognize some of the pastors who have been with us previously, either during Pastor Scot's vacations or during his sabbatical of 2018.

Others will be new faces for some of us. Always, the good news of Jesus Christ will be proclaimed! Plan on making Sunday worship (8 or 9:30, beginning on May 29th, online at both, or recorded) a part of your discipleship focus.

- Care Team: Please reach out to the Mount Olive office or Cindy Dobberke (cindy.dobberke@mountolive-elca.net) if you need pastoral care. We have arranged for two pastors to provide for emergency care needs and for longer term care; our Mount Olive care team is trained and available to walk with you through difficult times.
- Ministry Assessment: We have begun the process of gathering data regarding the ministry of Mount Olive, things like our mission statement, our ministry teams, attendance and financial data. Although a business-like approach, this information sheds light on the current organizational structure of our ministry and will be helpful to the Synod as we progress on the pastoral call process.
- Vitality and Organizational Structure Assessment: While the Ministry Assessment noted above is comprised of documented and measurable historical data, the assessment of vitality and organizational structure is a more subjective assessment of our mission, resources available to pursue that mission, congregational energy, adequacy of the church facility for our mission and growth, and leadership resources within the congregation.
- The Council meets on Monday, June 13th, to continue the work progress on the above work, to discuss our progress with engaging an interim pastor. Once the interim pastor is in place, we can begin to assemble a Mission Exploration Team to start the work of answering the following questions:
 - Who are we?
 - Who is our neighbor?
 - What is God doing within and outside of our ministry, and how are we called to participate?
 - How do we articulate the kind of leadership Mount Olive needs at this time?
- If you have a desire to participate on the leadership team of the Mission Exploration Process, please contact Cindy Dobberke.

Crafted in Christ - a summer of rest and renewal

by the Rev. Katie Hines-Shah

For summer 2022, participants will enjoy a three-session Bible study that uses the concept of quilting to explore rest, renewal and Christian community. We'll discuss Old and New Testament readings as we consider the patterns we follow and how the pieces of our lives and communities are bound together in Christ. While no actual sewing experience is required to complete the study, participants can opt to create a quilting project as a lasting reminder of their time together.

June 2022, Session 1: "A summer of rest and renewal," focuses on choosing patterns and re-assessing the shape of our lives. We find life-giving patterns in worship, sabbath and service. Come along and see, join in the conversation! No preparation necessary!

IN SEARCH OF FELLOWSHIP HOUR PROVIDERS!

Have you missed the fellowship time following worship? Would you be willing to prepare coffee (coffee supplies provided), bring some treats, juice, and clean up afterward? If so, please let the Mount Olive office know. If we have a large enough coffee fellowship team, we can begin scheduling now that the Omicron wave of COVID has subsided.
