A MESSAGE FROM PASTOR STEVE

When the great crowd of the Jews learned that he was there, they came not only because of Jesus but also to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. So, the chief priests planned to put Lazarus to death as well, since it was on account of him that many of the Jews were deserting and were believing in Jesus.

John 12:9-11 NRSV

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ:

The story of Lazarus is one of my favorites in the Bible. In the Lazarus story, we are given an image of a God who is present with us and weeps with us when we suffer. The good news of this Gospel story is that death has lost its sting because of God's life-giving power through faith.

One time, a parishioner asked me what happened to Lazarus after being raised from the dead. The scripture on top is from John's Gospel, which explains what happened afterward. Can you imagine how the world would respond if a spiritual healer brought someone back from the clutches of death? What would the world say if there were people who had some power over death? Would there be anxiety and fear because of those individuals?

As Christians, God has given us some power over death. When we co-create with God by doing God's work with our hands, life-giving results can unfold. Perhaps a good question to explore is, "How has Christianity been life-giving for the world?"

The information used in the next section relies on information gathered from pursuegod.org and elca.org.

Christianity and orphans

Christians have always had a heart for the least privileged members of society, particularly orphans. Jesus was born to a single mom, Mary, and was adopted by Joseph. The Bible speaks about salvation in terms of adoption. You are adopted into God's family. And Christians have a responsibility to care for orphans. For centuries, Christians have built orphanages and provided for those without a mom and a dad. Even today, many Christians continue to move to challenging parts of the world to support the most vulnerable groups of people.

Jesus and women

In Jesus' context, women would hold a lower place in society than men. Additionally, husbands were permitted to treat their wives in ways that could be considered akin to treating them as property. Jesus, however, raises the placement of women in society and creation. We see this in Jesus' inclusion of women in his inner circle. Jesus acted honorably toward women, and he commanded his followers to do the same. Christians are to love people as Christ loves the church.

Christianity and education

Christians have always valued education. It is because of the works of monks and priests that many of the great works of Western literature were passed down to us. Advancements in education have been made by Christians, such as the printing press, which Johannes Gutenberg invented. Many of the first American universities were Christian institutions.

Christianity and slavery

Slavery was a reality in the time of the Bible. God did not instruct His people to initiate an abolitionist movement in the Roman Empire. Instead, the Bible's teaching about being made in the image of God paved the way for the end of slavery. Christians have been inspired by their faith in Jesus to bring an end to slavery. Many American abolitionists were Christians, and a significant number of individuals in the modern American civil rights movement, such as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., were also Christians.

Christianity and medicine

Christians were among the first to establish hospitals in the Roman Empire and subsequently throughout the Western world. Even today, Christians are often the first to bring hospitals and quality medical care to the developing world. In the Roman Empire, Christians would typically remain in the cities during plagues to care for the sick and the afflicted.

Christianity and prison reform

In the 1800s, prisons were terrible places, particularly in England. Conditions were the worst for women who often had to bring their children with them into prison. Women who had stolen a few coins were put next to women accused of murder. Christians throughout history have worked tirelessly to bring reform to the prison system.

Christianity and the poor

Jesus was known for his care for people with low incomes. From the beginning of the Christian church, Christians have understood their role to be one of helping those in need. Throughout the ages, Christians have put together societies and missions for those on the margins of society. Some of the most notable institutions that continue to help the poor today were founded by Christians.

These examples demonstrate to us that God has given us some power over death. When we co-create with God by doing God's work with our hands, life-giving results can unfold.

Ultimately, we can recall that God has worked through Christianity in life-giving ways and will continue to do so, even if the church body is not perfect. I think it is essential to acknowledge that we are not perfect, but with God working through us, anything is possible. God has given Christianity new life by providing us with a purpose for which we are sent to feed the world with grace and love. It is through the grace and love of God that Christianity has worked against death to bring forth something life-giving for the world.

Peace be with you all.

Pastor Steve

COUNCIL CORNER

As I have finished my time serving as Council President, I want to take a moment to reflect on the last two years—a time that brought both challenge and growth to Mount Olive.

Navigating a pastoral vacancy during a post-COVID recovery wasn't easy. Our Call Team was beyond dedicated; without their heartfelt dedication, I feel we may well still be searching for a pastor. Finding a pastor to answer our call took longer than we hoped, and it tested our patience and faith. But through it all, your prayers, presence, and perseverance never wavered. We're beginning to see more familiar faces return to worship, and it's a true blessing to feel our church family coming back together again.

Despite the challenges, we've seen progress: our parking lot was sealed and repaired, and we celebrated a major milestone with the installation of our new LED sign—a bright beacon of hope and welcome for our community. Also, a new website was brought to fruition!! These improvements reflect not just physical changes, but the spirit of a church that is alive and moving forward. Keep in mind these are only a FEW of the fantastic accomplishments, as well as our many many ongoing ministries that have persevered.

Mount Olive is sustained and strengthened by its people—you, the congregation. Your passion is the reason this church not only survives but thrives. I am deeply thankful for the support, encouragement, and dedication you've shown. A very special thank you to Debbie—I can't say enough about how incredible you've been. Your help meant the world to me. You do an amazing job.

Though we are not "out of the woods" just yet, we are certainly on more stable footing, and I'm hopeful for what's ahead. From the bottom of my heart--thank you for the opportunity to serve and for walking this journey together.

As I continue on as a council member, I encourage you to search yourself and really ask a hard question...Am I part of the change I speak of?

God's peace to you all,
Mike Zaddack, Council

SERVICE TEAM UPDATE

Summer Collection Project

Once again, we will be collecting new and used SHOES for "Soles for Jesus".

Soles For Jesus exists to share God's love by distributing shoes to the underserved in sub-Saharan Africa. This valuable gift prevents disease and enables individuals to work safely and attend school.

What types of shoes does SFJ accept? All shoes! They accept new and used shoes of all types and sizes. Any unusable shoes will be repurposed, and every pair will be put to use.

What will be done with the received shoes that are not adequate for sending to Africa? Shoes that are not adequate in the African climate and terrain (i.e., winter boots or high heels) or are not usable due to excessive wear will be repurposed through micro-enterprises. Micro-enterprises represent one of the most effective ways to lift families out of extreme poverty in devastated economies. Small business owners can use our repurposed shoes to earn money for food and as a sustainable source of income.

Shoes may be brought in during the month of July and placed in the boxes in the Narthex. To help defray the cost of shipping shoes to Africa, we will place a collection jar near the boxes to accept donations of money. The challenge is to collect $1-$2 per pair of shoes donated. So go through your closets and bring in your shoes and a dollar.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT & SUNDAY MORNING BIBLE STUDY

The Wednesday Night Bible Study are on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 – 7:30 p.m., September thru May in the Fellowship Hall. This year's study will be led by Richard Grosenick, a gifted Bible study teacher whom some of you will remember from adult Sunday School class several years ago. (Dwight will still be there, but Richard is in charge). This year's study will be the New Testament books of Romans and 1st John.

All are welcome. It is not necessary to have any prior experience in Bible study. All that is needed is a desire to know more about the Bible, while having good fellowship and a little bit of fun. If interested, contact Dwight Cruikshank.

The Sunday Morning Adult Bible Study meets at 9 a.m. on Sunday mornings and will be studying the Old Testament book of 1st Kings this year, with special sessions in December for an Advent study. 1st Kings picks up at the end of the golden era of the reign of King David over Israel. The story continues with Solomon, who is able to fulfill his father's dream of building the temple in Jerusalem. But it doesn't stop there. Join us as we discover, or re-discover, the glory, decline, and chaos that surrounds the story of God's chosen people. Join us for a few sessions or many. You may find yourself wanting to hear the rest of the story...

Join us for the education and fellowship. Join us to just listen or to participate in the discussion. Join us for a few sessions or for many sessions. We're looking forward to welcoming you!

NOTE: Tuesday, July 8th, 9:30 a.m.
MTO Fellowship Hall

Session Two: Relationships that sustain us: Where you go, I will go

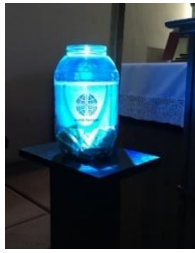

One cannot get far in this life without encountering suffering. Loss, betrayal and tragedy show up in our own lives and in the lives of those we love. In this Bible study, we will explore the story of Naomi and Ruth, two women who held fast to their relationship in the face of great loss. With this in mind, we'll consider what helps us to stay in relationship with others when we face seasons of grief and suffering in our own lives and the lives of others.

(Zoom link also available.) Join on the Second Tuesday in July at 9:30 am for our conversation and faith exploration using Gather magazine- a publication of the Women of the ELCA. Copies of the magazine and devotional will be available for all.

Did you know that a weekly email is sent out each Wednesday entitled “This Week at MTO.” Each weekly email contains the following types of info: special messages, Mount Olive’s calendar for the coming week, and any other events that are happening at Mount Olive over the next week or so. If you are not currently receiving this email, please let the church office know your email address, and we will add you to the circulation list. Or sign up on our website at: www.mountolive-elca.net. Don’t miss out! PLEASE LET US KNOW...If you, a family member, or a friend would like to have a visit from the pastor, please notify the church office or Cindy Dobberke.
